

Queensland Training AWARDS

There's no higher honour for excellence in an apprenticeship than being nominated in the Queensland Training Awards.

Harvey Phillips, 2021 Apprentice of the Year – Tropical North Queensland winner and Queensland finalist

Celebrate the power of skills.

Celebrate you.

The Queensland Training Awards shine the spotlight on the power of skills and people just like you.

Apprentices, trainees and students, the people who train and the businesses that employ – your success demonstrates how training changes lives, forges careers, and builds strong and skilled workforces.

Your story is powerful.

Celebrate and tell your story through the Queensland Training Awards.

Enter and learn more at bit.ly/qtawards

Individual awards

- Harry Hauenschild Apprentice of the Year
- Bob Marshman Trainee of the Year
- Vocational Student of the Year
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Student of the Year
- School-based Apprentice or Trainee of the Year
- Equity VET Student of the Year
- VET Teacher or Trainer of the Year

Business and community awards

- Community Training Initiative of the Year
- Large Employer of the Year
- Medium Employer of the Year
- Small Employer of the Year
- Premier's Industry Collaboration Award

Training provider awards

- Large Training Provider of the Year
- Small Training Provider of the Year

Additional categories are available at the national level, as part of the Australian Training Awards.

For individuals

As Queensland's highest training accolade, this is your opportunity to recognise personal success and help build your career.

"Being nominated and winning the Queensland Apprentice of the Year was great recognition for my hard work and commitment to my trade."

Lauren Campbell, Certificate III in Air-conditioning and Refrigeration
2021 Apprentice of the Year – Queensland winner and Australian finalist

"Thanks to my traineeship, I have never felt more confident in my own abilities and capacity to help others. I'm proud of what I have achieved and am truly humbled by my success in the Queensland Training Awards and then on the national stage. The awards are a truly unique way people like me can be recognised and inspire others. They helped me take my message to a whole new level and audience."

Kasey Hardy, Certificate III in Work Health and Safety
2021 Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Student of the Year – Australian and Queensland winner

For business and community

As an organisation, the awards can help you highlight your commitment to workforce development as well as your staff and your community.

Nominations are open to small, medium and large employers, as well as training providers, community-based organisations and industry collaborations.

Through the individual categories, you can also choose to recognise the achievements of employees involved in vocational education and training (VET).

"These awards offer tremendous recognition for your business and staff, and also validate the importance of your industry and skills to our economy. If your business values training and supporting staff to be the best they can be, then I highly recommend you enter the Queensland Training Awards. It was a great shared experience that my team and I will treasure for a long time."

Caytlyn Mead, CEO, Robinson Civil Group
2021 Medium Employer of the Year – Australian and Queensland winner

Pictured: RCG staff member.

Become a sponsor

Sponsoring makes good business sense, boosting your brand and profile within the VET sector.

Show your support of skills development in Queensland and enquire today.